Mother Goes to Maryland to See Son Start School

A Torrance mother traveled all the way to Maryland to watch her son start school recently.

Mrs. Herman L. Mitchell, of 1317 Acacia Ave., was invited to attend a special "Open House" week-end at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., along with all other parents and relatives of midshipmen in the new Plebe class, like her son, Donald.

More than 2200 parents and relatives of the 1130 midshipmen in the freshman class visited the academy where they participated in a special "Get-acquainted" program, which included tours of the grounds and facilities, athletic events and a Plebe variety show.

Parents were dinner guests of their sons in the huge mess hall, and joined them in using various recreation facilities, including sailing craft, picnic areas, golf links and tennis courts. Special summer indoctrination of the new class has been under way since June 9. The regular academic year began Sept. 8 with the full brigade of midshipmen, numbering about 3800, in attendance.

BIRTH RECORDS

Birth registration was made compulsory in England in 1876.

RUNNING WATER

About 95 per cent of United States urban homes have running water.

SNAPPER

Boy, was the guy sore about this shot! Not because I took his picture, but because the caddy charged him for carrying double for the whole afternoon.

He fanned the air at me with a putter a couple of times but missed me, in my business you have to move fast!

This may seem like advertising out of season, but if you ladies are thinking about a real special gift for that hubby of yours this Christmas, why don't you do as so many of our customers do. That is—come in and have us lay away that camera of your choice. And you'll have plenty of time before Christmas to pay for it!

The boss was just saying he didn't know where he was going to put all those cameras he got in for Christmas!

See you next week,
SNAPPER.
